Whether you own or lease your trucks, maintenance can be the most critical aspect of managing your fleet. We know that fleet operators are finding it difficult to keep up with maintenance demands. Breakdowns happen, vehicle technology is more complex, maintenance costs are rising, and downtime can halt your business.

Ryder offers a wide range of maintenance products for all vehicle types, giving you the flexibility to select the level of maintenance you need to keep your fleet running properly throughout its life span. Ryder SelectCare Maintenance gives you three choices and a lot of flexibility:

Ryder SelectCare Full Service Maintenance

Ryder SelectCare Preventive Maintenance

Provides standard, preventive maintenance to keep your fleet running efficiently, ensure DOT compliance, and identify and troubleshoot issues to prevent breakdowns.

Ryder SelectCare On-Demand Maintenance

The ultimate in Ryder maintenance flexibility for large fleets. Contract and pay for a nationwide maintenance network for what you need, when you need it.

You can also choose whether you want maintenance done at a Ryder shop, on-site, or at a mobile location. Whatever choice you make, you'll benefit from faster repair times, improved communication, and clear invoicing. SelectCare Maintenance customers also enjoy priority service, provided by knowledgeable Ryder maintenance professionals, who are fully trained on the latest technology. Partners also benefit from an industry leading 95% uptime.

FLEET MANAGEMENT: TOTAL COST OF FLEET OWNERSHIP TOOL

The road to understanding your Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) begins with a thorough analysis of all the costs and benefits associated with fleet ownership. Knowing the purchase price of a tractor or trailer is a great start, but the true cost of acquiring an asset goes far beyond the sticker price: you need to assess the investment, the cost of capital, and depreciation.

Through a partnership with KPMG, we found that many fleet owners were surprised at the amount of related salary and labor expenses that go to employees who indirectly support the fleet, such as accountants handling finance, tax, and regulatory reporting.

With a TCO analysis, depending on the size of your fleet, you can save 10-30% on your costs. Our TCO tool allows you to account for hidden costs such as:

- Disposal and salvage fees
- Administrative costs
- Increasing costs as your fleet ages
- Roadside assistance
- Cost of breakdowns
- Training

Uncovering all direct and indirect costs is critical to accurately determine the true costs of fleet ownership.
